'HELL BENT' FOR THE ROCK N ROLL HALL OF FAME!

British metal icons Judas Priest have been nominated to be inducted into the Rock n Roll Hall of Fame in 2018. Singer Rob Halford said, 'This is our Oscars. You often wonder what it would feel like if you were able to be onstage, making an acceptance speech, and having the pleasure to be in the company of all the other musicians and industry people. So if we do get in, it will be an absolute dream-come-true moment. Fingers crossed.'

The band have also been working on their upcoming 18th studio album which is soon to be released, plus they're preparing for a world tour next March 2018.

WHAT'S ON THE ABSOLUTE ROCKS BOOMBOX?

LIAM GALLAGHER: AS YOU WERE

This week we've been listening to Manchester's rock n roll royalty, Liam Gallagher. He released his debut solo album, 'As You Were' on 6th October and it has topped the UK Album Charts with combined sales of 103,000 of physical purchases and downloads. It makes it the third fastest selling album behind Ed Sheeran's Divide and Rag and Bone Man's Human.

We know that this album will provide next year's festival anthems - Beatle-esque tracks like 'Greedy Soul' is a pure foot stomper and our favourite love song 'When I'm in Need' shows that Liam's not just the loud, gobby frontman we all love, it's a true reflection of the real Liam, soft side and all and we're loving it!

20th CENTURY BOY

This issue we're paying homage to the one and only Marc Bolan and his band T-REX. 50 years ago the Glam Rockers formed and generated a fan frenzy so big that it was truly reminiscent of Beatlemania. They were huge and produced 11 successive UK number 1 hits including 'Get it On' and 'Jeepster'.

In 1973 Ringo Star directed a documentary titled 'Born to Boogie' based on the band's success. Last month the music industry celebrated 40 years since Marc Bolan tragically died in a car crash. His music remains unique and timeless.
